Indeed, his arrival is one of the most positive signs that the port of New York has even since the armisticwas signed that peace, despite the rumblings of Bolshevism, is here. For Bir Thomas, formerly of the British Red Cross hospital ship service, is now a private yachtsman looking for trouble.

Probably the most emphatic statement that Sir Thomas made was that he had always been beaten fairly and squarely during his twenty years of endeavor to recover the America's Cup and was prepared to give the New York Yacht Club another opportunity to thwart his ambition in 1920, the earliest moment set by the American club for receiving a challenge.

"That cup. I am sure, must be very eager to get home by this time." Sir Thomas said genially. "I know I would like to go home, even if I remained only a month or so, if I had been away from my own country for sixty years, as the

about to play one of his selections for reproduction by the AMPICO.

As he plays, the exact pressure of his fingers on the keys, the exact period of holding each note, the exact time, the sustained phrases, the staccato-each is unerringly recorded by the electric current. And as unerringly, the AMPICO reproduces it in the exquisite tones of the CHICKERING piano, or the SCHOMAC-KER, or the MARSHALL AND WENDELL or the celebrated KNABE. You have your choice—the AMPICO is in ALL these famous in-

Ten years ago-just think. only ten years ago!-you would have ridiculed the idea that you would ever be able to hear the playing of a hundred great pianists IN YOUR HOME, whenever you wished, as often as you wished.

TODAY that idea is a reality. A hundred artistes besides Ornstein have played for the AMPICO. In hundreds of homes the music they played is being reproduced, day after day, evening after evening. Thousands of men and women are hearing better music than they ever heard before, except at the finest of concerts. Thousands of children are growing up with memories of REAL music solidly rooted in their mobile minds. And thousands of girls and boys are practising music with a definite, high standard singing in their ears, towards which their hands and hearts are striving. The HOME is better for the AMPICO. The WORLD is better for every home in which there is an AMPICO.

The various fine pianosuprights and grands - in which the AMPICO is built are to be seen and heard. and bought in the WANA-MAKER Piano Salons, $1,000 to $2,900. Pianos of lesser musical value taken in part exchange, and convenient terms accorded in confidence to purchasers desiring them.
